Introduction

FreeViral is a clever system for promoting your own website and it claims that you can get over 1,000,000 visitors a month if you use it. This is possible which means that you should at least consider using it for your own website promotion, especially because it doesn't cost you anything.

1 million visitors coming to your website represents a fantastic opportunity to develop your own online business and make money whether it be from AdSense revenues, sales of affiliate products & services or straightforward retail sales, and with FreeViral, you can get there without spending any money at all!

Using FreeViral with AdSense – A Case Study

Suppose you get a click through rate of 2% with your AdSense program and each click earns you 45 cents. 1 million visitors a month will give you 20,000 clicks and will earn you $9,000. Google pays this amount directly to you.

That's $9,000 dollars a month, or $108,000 a year made by just taking a bit of time to get FreeViral right and signing up for AdSense too.

With these figures, it's got to be worth looking into a bit more.

Both FreeViral and AdSense are totally free – but in both cases you need to understand not just the mechanics of the way they work, you also need to exploit all the tricks in the book: FreeViral tricks to drive up your traffic and AdSense tricks to maximise your income from all those visitors.

You've also got to make AdSense and FreeViral pull hard together in the same direction.

The great news is that the difference between getting things right and getting things wrong is simply having some key information in your head about how FreeViral and AdSense work - and you now have access to that information:

- The website <http://www.FactsAboutAdSense.com> will give you all you need to know about getting AdSense right.
- This Special Report gives you all you need to know to get FreeViral right.

Putting these two programs together, a process that only takes a bit of time and effort, can quite literally make you automatic money - money that you “earn” while you are asleep, on holiday or doing whatever else you like.

If you have a job, it’s a lot of extra spending power for those luxuries you want. If you don’t have a job because you look after a family or are unemployed, it’s a great way to improve your personal financial position and lifestyle.

So take the time to study this Special Report to see what you need to do to turbo-charge FreeViral. Then learn all about AdSense and other internet marketing techniques and tricks on the website <http://www.FactsAboutAdSense.com>

Put what you’ve learnt into practice and I guarantee you will make money – and quickly too. (I made money 1 day after my website went live – there is no reason why you couldn’t do the same.)

4 steps to FreeViral success

There are 4 steps you need to take. (Don’t sign up until you’ve taken the first 3 steps because you’ll waste time and get some things wrong.)

1. Learn exactly how FreeViral works. We’ll be covering this in depth so that you can start building your own personal “chain-reaction” on the internet to explode your visitor numbers.
2. Understand exactly which factors maximise how quickly your own FreeViral system grows and then use this knowledge to accelerate the growth of your marketing network.
3. Study crucial techniques that can boost your conversion ratios all the way down the line (once you understand how FreeViral works, you’ll see why even a 0.1% increase in conversion rate can have a dramatic impact on your overall site traffic.)
4. Sign up for FreeViral – you can do this from the web page <http://www.FactsAboutAdSense.com/fv.htm> where there is more information about the process. It takes a few minutes but once you’re done, that’s it. (You really will get much more out of the system if you don’t sign up until you’ve read this report – there’s no hurry.)

Let's look at each of these 4 steps in turn.

1. Learn exactly how FreeViral works

FreeViral uses a type of pyramid marketing process to get your site seen by thousands if not millions of people. It uses 2 related processes to work.

First, it offers you the opportunity of benefiting from its traffic generation capability if you open an "account". (There's no money involved)

Secondly, it only allows you to do this if you agree to visit 7 other websites that are already in the system – and thus drives you to those websites and increases their traffic levels thus fulfilling its promise about generating traffic.

6 of these ads are for people who have already signed up to the system. The 7th is "owned" by the people who set up FreeViral in the first place.

The clever twist

There is a clever twist to this system: you have to view each site for a few seconds because each site is launched in a frame and at the top of the frame a number appears which you then have to enter into the FreeViral page to "prove" you have visited the site - and this number doesn't appear for a while which gives the advertiser the opportunity to get his or her message across on his / her website.

Once you have seen all the websites and signed up you are then given a link to your own FreeViral web page and asked to write your own ad too which will link to any page on your own website you choose.

You then must encourage people to click on your link and to sign up for their own FreeViral system too otherwise you won't get anywhere.

If these people then promote FreeViral as well, when someone signs up in this level below you, your ad will move to the second place and will get shown and clicked on every time someone in this next level down signs up.

This process continues down 6 levels.

The mathematics of this is that your ad will be seen by a growing number of people provided everyone in your own downstream is successful at signing up more members. Sign up levels are key.

If you sign up 10 people from your site, and they each sign up 10 people and so on down the 6 levels you will have had over 1,111,000 visitors to your site.

However, if you only manage to get 5 people to sign up from your site and they in turn manage to get only 5 people to sign up then after 6 levels you will only have had just over 19,500 visitors.

So that's the mechanics of the process and straightaway we can see how it is critical that your own conversion rates are high not just for your next level but for as many levels down the pyramid as you go.

Look at this table

Number of signs ups per person	Number of overall visitors generated by level 6	Potential AdSense income assuming 2% click through rate and 45c a click
1	6	$0.05
2	126	$1.13
3	1,092	$9.83
4	5,460	$49.14
5	19,530	$175.77
6	55,986	$503.87
7	137,256	$1,235.30
8	299,592	$2,696.33
9	597,870	$5,380.83
10	1,111,110	$10,000.00
11	1,948,716	$17,538.44

This shows that it is clearly vital to the success of your FreeViral program that you get as many people below you to sign up as you can – and there are some powerful techniques you can do that will help you.

2. Factors that maximise FreeViral take up

Most people who use FreeViral get absolutely miserable results for one reason and one reason alone – they do absolutely nothing to promote the pyramid below them.

You have to do 3 things

- i) Make it easy for people to sign up for an account and motivate them to do so
- ii) Make it worth their while by explaining the benefits they will get in terms that are appealing (more money, more visitors etc.) What is the benefit of all this traffic? Put it in tangible terms.

For example, using the table above we can see that if you use AdSense and get 45c a click and a 2% click through rate and you get 10 conversions down each level you are actually looking at enough cash to buy a car with – every month! And there's no reason why you should just stop at 10 conversions either.

A new car simply by opening your free FreeViral account and signing up for AdSense (again, free.) That is what you could get IF you signed up for FreeViral and promoted it to your downstream and just got on with it.

iii) Help them build their own downstream by providing them with the tools that do the job. We'll come onto this shortly.

3. How to boost your FreeViral conversion rate

You need to use all the tricks going at each point in the conversion cycle. These are

- Getting someone to click your link to your own FreeViral page
- Getting someone to go through the full sign up process
- Getting someone to click on your ad on any FreeViral page on a level below yours
- Getting someone to do something useful or valuable when they land on your site via FreeViral
- Getting someone in your downstream to promote the service for themselves and thus for you

If this looks like a tall order, it doesn't have to be – you just need to follow a few practical steps.

How to get someone to click your link

Give them a good solid tangible reasons for doing so. Don't just say "click here to get lots of traffic" because they won't believe you and they won't click. You've got to arouse curiosity and put it in terms that are appealing:

“Here's an internet marketing system called “FreeViral” It really can generate 1 million hits or more on your site, hits that you could turn into $'000s with AdSense – but only if you know some special tricks. Click here for a free report that shows you how to do it.”

How to get someone to complete the sign up

Tell them in advance what the process involves and again, make sure you explain the benefits of doing so in real terms. Remember that car that you could get with the money? Or that fantastic holiday? Make them weigh up the mildly inconvenient signing-up process against the much greater benefits of a holiday, a car etc.

How to get someone to click on your ad on your FreeViral page

First up, why do you want someone to click on your ad – aren't they going to anyway as part of the sign up process? Well, yes, they are, but the more enticing your ad is, the easier you make the overall process of getting the sign up. If all six ads are interesting, you'll find sign ups faster. Tell your downstream this too – it is in your interests to make all downstream advertisers have interesting ads. Offering a clear benefit up front in your ad is a good way of getting interest and attention.

Trick: you can use much more space than you might realise: my ad has over 490 characters in it whereas most are limited to a short line of text. This is FREE ADVERTISING SPACE. Use it well. You can use  and === etc. to give you some formatting capabilities too.

How to get someone to do something valuable on your site

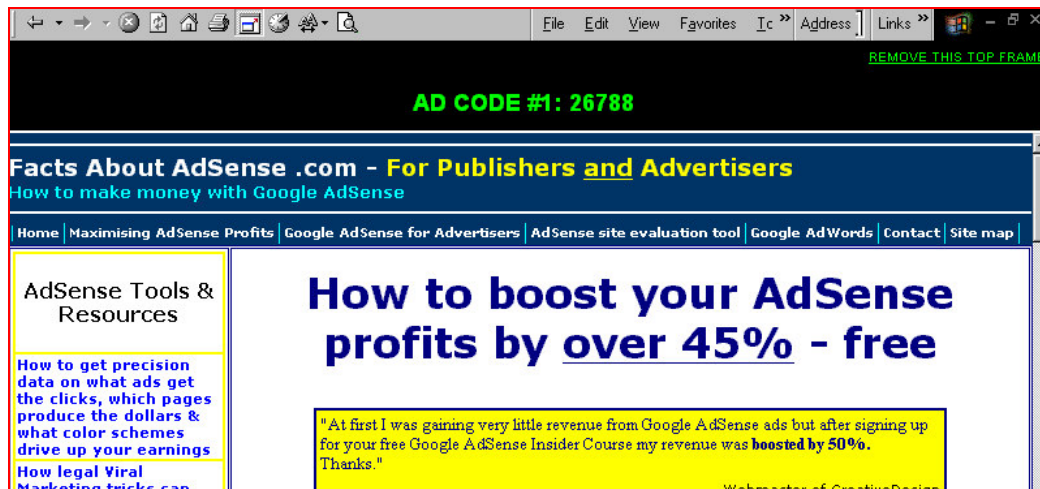

When someone clicks on your FreeViral ad, they usually go to the top of the home page of your site in a FreeViral frame (see picture below) – but they don't have to.

There is no reason why you shouldn't design a special page on your site just for people coming from FreeViral and link this page with your ad. Design this page so that what they see creates immediate impact.

For example, suppose you make money mainly from AdSense, you could design your FreeViral landing page so all your AdSense ads are at the top of the page.

There's an example here: <http://www.FactsAboutAdSense.com/fvexample.htm>

Here's what the FreeViral code part of the page looks like – you have to wait for the Ad Code to appear during which time you naturally tend to look at the web page.

How to get your downstream to promote FreeViral

Explain how it works and why it is vital TO THEIR OWN SUCCESS that they promote it properly. Emphasise that it is free, easy and can deliver impressive traffic levels which they can monetize if they are using AdSense or other income generating tools.

4. Signing up for FreeViral

Signing up for FreeViral takes a few minutes but bear in mind you only need to do it once and they could be some of the most profitable few minutes work of your life!

Here's a fact though: you won't get any benefit from FreeViral unless you kick it off.

Just do it and do it now. Sign up and work at it for a while. After that it becomes self-promoting and the sooner you start building your own pyramid the quicker your income will grow.
